

Villa, Riviera del Sol

THIS PROPERTY IS RESERVED This south facing detached villa is a lovely family home which would make an ideal long term residence on the Costa del Sol. The house has been well built (there are no signs of damp, salt peter and the snagging problems were minimal) by a reputable builder who has completed several other projects in the area. The lay out is functional and all of rooms are all larger than the average build that you would expect to see. The property includes a separate guest apartment and office and a private garage and has extra features such as under-floor heating in the bathrooms, alarm, satellite tv, and integrated AC. There are numerous terraces around the property as well as several small gardens...
